

Acknowledgements

I would like to acknowledge Prince of Songkla University for partially funding this study and Ministry of Public Health for providing the epidemiological data.

I would like to express Prof. Charun Chantalakaha for being my external examiner, my co-author, Prof Saowapa Angsupanich, for sharing her data and giving suggestions not only in ecologic study but also in general life.

I would also thank to my former advisors; Assoc Prof. Surin Khanabsakdi, Dr. Pechawan Pungrasame; the director of TB center in Yala province, Asst. Prof. Sukree Hajisamae for helpful comments and suggestions in the publication of my paper and also thank Greig Rundle, David Broadfoot, Edward McNeil, for helping with English corrections. I am very also grateful to PSU Pattani's family especially Asst. Prof. Chumnein Choonpradub and Asst. Prof. Apiradee Lim, all Master and Ph.d. friends for sharing knowledge and working together and my colleagues at PSU Hat Yai for supporting this study. And my special thanks go to Sangdao Wongsai, Sampurna Kakchapati, and Nittima Nulong who are friends in need when friend is deed.

I want to express my deep gratitude to Prof. Don McNeil (Ajan Don) for inspiration and guidance from the very early stage of this research as well as giving me extraordinary experiences through out the work. Above all and the most needed, he has provided me encouragement and support in various ways.

Finally my deeply love go to my family especially my parent, Mae Sakorn and Poi Sopol Kongchouy, for supporting and encouraging me to pursue this degree.
